we know the street terms, we know the "cop speak", and we know the court lingo.

Most consumers routinely ignore these boiler-plate disclaimers because the machinations of FDA politics and corruption are common knowledge.

He wouldn't have accomplished anything by making a fuss and getting arrested, not to mention that this delicious irony wouldn't have come about if he'd done otherwise.

Foster home is terrific and her rescuers, called the cat women, should be getting a check from me via
